

2018 NATIONAL ELECTION GUIDELINES

Six Governor seats will be up for election during the 2018 NBS-AERho National Convention. Two Student Governors will be elected for a one-year term, and three professional Governors will be elected for two-year terms. One of the professional governors will be elected separately to serve as President of Alpha Epsilon Rho, as well as a member of the Board of Governors.

Every member of the Society who meets the qualifications and has a commitment to the growth and development of NBS is encouraged to consider candidacy for one of these offices. A description of the qualifications, powers, and duties of all national offices can be found in the NBS-AERho Constitution (Article 9, Sections 1 through 4) and in the Bylaws (Chapters 7 and 8). Candidates for offices must be NBS members in good standing at the time of their election. The candidates for the President of Alpha Epsilon Rho must also be a member of AERho.

If you are a potential candidate for one of the open Governor positions, complete the appropriate online Board of Governors Candidate Declaration form by February 21, 2018 as provided in the Procedures below.

The election for the Board of Governors will be conducted during the business meeting of the National Council in Convention. Each chapter has one vote and is required to provide a voting delegate at the convention. If a chapter is not attending the convention, it should contact the Executive Director by e-mail and request that a proxy voter be assigned. Send the e-mail with the subject line: Proxy for [Chapter name] to nbsaerho@swbell.net. Failure to be represented (by a voting delegate or a proxy) could result in a fine and/or suspension.

If you will be representing your chapter as the voting delegate, consider the following:

1. What qualifications should the candidates have beyond those listed in the Constitution? Do the candidates have administrative experience? Have they been very active in chapter activities as well as providing service at the national level? Do they believe in the value of the National Broadcasting Society?
2. Can they handle the duties in the Constitution as well as those not listed? What is their professional situation? Do they have time to devote to NBS national affairs? Will their employers be supportive of their activities, allowing them, for example, to make phone calls at work? What are their other obligations to be considered?
3. What are their goals for the Society? Do they have a reasonable, balanced platform containing achievable goals? Are they aware of chapter concerns? Do they see areas for possible growth and areas for improvement? Do they have something specific to say, or are their comments general?
4. Do they have leadership qualities necessary for the job? Have they been successful in their previous efforts? Will they be able to appoint dedicated committee members to share in the work of the Society? Can they motivate people who are not working and replace them with able people?

This year's Director of Elections is Dr. David von Palko. Executive Director, Jim Wilson, will serve in his absence. The following procedures have been established to govern the election activities for the National Convention in 2018.
