

2022 NBS-AERho Awards and Selection Criteria

(To be presented at the 2023 National Convention)

In recognition of outstanding performance and service

Awards in the form of plaques and certificates may be given to qualified individual members and chapters of the association. These awards are to be presented at the national convention, based on nominations from Association members, and determined by the Board of Governors.

Any member of the National Electronic Media Association may nominate candidates for the awards; however, no more than three nominations may be sent by members of a single chapter for one nominee. Follow the link to the nomination site. You can fill out more than one nomination, but you will have to follow the special instructions concerning your e-mail address for multiple entries. The nomination statement should be no more than about 100 words (500 characters) and should factually demonstrate how the nominee meets the guidelines of the particular award by citing specific reasons and examples. Activities between January 1 and December 31, 2022, should be considered for the nominating process. Unless otherwise indicated in the criteria, all award winners must have been active, paid members of NBS during 2021 and at the time the awards are presented. Nomination forms must be completed and submitted by 11:55 pm Eastern time, March 15, 2023.

Awards may be presented in the following categories:

Alpha Epsilon Rho Member of the Year

The nominee must be a member of NBS and an inducted member of Alpha Epsilon Rho who serves the Association to his or her fullest and who brings positive recognition to the Association.

National Electronic Media Association Student Member of the Year

To be considered, the individual must increase awareness of the National Electronic Media Association on campus, participate in national conventions and events, show success in electronic media areas such as engaging in productions and providing public awareness of philanthropies, and more.

National Electronic Media Association Professional Member of the Year

The nominee must be a professional member of the National Electronic Media Association who serves the Association to his or her fullest and who brings positive recognition to the Association.

Advisor of the Year

To be considered, the individual must communicate well both with chapter officers and members and with the national office, as evidenced by meetings, correspondence, etc.; increase awareness of the National Electronic Media Association on campus; assist with applicable national conventions and events; show success in advising/leading the local chapter; and, meet all obligations stipulated in the organization's Constitution and By-Laws.

Chapter of the Year

To be considered, a chapter must maintain communication with the national office, increase awareness of the National Electronic Media Association on campus, assist with applicable national conventions and events, show success in electronic media areas such as engaging in productions and providing public awareness of philanthropies, and meet all obligations stipulated in the organization's Constitution and By-Laws.

Rookie Chapter of the Year

Awarded to a chapter that has been active only since the last national convention. Can be given to a reactivated chapter. Normally awarded to a Motivated Chapter. To be considered, a chapter must maintain communication with the national office, increase awareness of NBS on campus, assist with applicable area and national conventions, show success in electronic media areas such as engaging in productions and providing public awareness of philanthropies, and meet all obligations stipulated in the Association's Constitution and By-Laws.

Rookie Member of the Year

Awarded to a member of who has joined NBS-level membership since the last national convention. Usually the nominee comes from a Motivated or Model Chapter. To be considered, the individual must increase awareness of the National Electronic Media Association on campus, participate in the national convention, show success in electronic media areas, such as engaging in productions and increasing public awareness of philanthropies, and more.

To make a nomination click HERE